Is the culy remedy that can be relied upon, in all case. To cradicate the taint of hereditary diseases and the special corruptions of the blood. It is the only alterative that is sufficiently powerful to thoroughly cleanse the system of Serofulous and Mercurial impurities and the pollution of Contagious Discuses. It also neutralizes the poisons left by Diphtheria and Scarlet Fever, and enables rapid recuperation from the enfectblement and debility caused by these diseases.

Myriads of Cures chieved by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, in past forty years, are attested, and there no blood disease, at all possible of cure, at will not yield to it. Whatever the ments of this class, and wherever found, from the scurvy of the Arctic circle to the "voidt-sores" of South Africa, this remedy has afforded health to the sufference by whom it was employed. Druggists everywhere can cite numerous cases, within their personal knowledge, of remarkable cures wrought by it, where all other treatment had been unavailing. People will do well to

If they were sure of it the new phase would have set in already as a consequence of their hundred. sequence of their buying. A moderate decrease in the daily supply of winter grades at primary markets is amply counterbalanced by a more vigorous movement of spring wheat from first hands than was ever before known at the close of October. The largely augmented yield, due to the continued opening up of new areas in the Northwest, is being parted with at whatever price it will bring, there being pecumary and other reasons why it cannot be held during the winter where grown. times aggregating 1,000,000 bushels for a single day, and only a light export

But present figures do not promise to bring out an overwhelming volume, because they practically cut off contributions from a very large percentage of the corn-grow-ing area where it means less than $4 for a wagon load after hauling it to the depot. Under such circumstances there will be Of course low-priced wheat and oats form a cogent argument for keeping corn down, helled this winter, and corn could scarcely keep down if wheat should start up a little. Provisions are generally considered low. Cheap corn has helped to force the de-cline, and the fear of loss by cholera through holding in some sections has
